Level 3C

This optional additional component is designed to replace the parent learning that would typically happen within our environment as a working parent. Through group discussions, videos and other tools we will dive deeply into our philosophy of both parenting and learning so that in this time, parents have the extra tools they need not only to navigate the challenges but to allow everyone to grow and thrive in it. While this course can stand alone, when taken in conjunction with either on site learning or in level 2B, we are excited to be able to continue to support families in exploring and creating connections.

You will learn how to:

- Use language that helps create connection
- Set limits and boundaries and support their need for their own
- Encourage and build resilience, self esteem and curiosity
- Problem solve through sibling rivalry, skinned knees and seemingly conflicting need
